Water the monstera when the top few centimetres of soil feel dry.
Ferns prefer humid air, so mist them or set the pot on a tray of pebbles.
Rotate plants on the windowsill every week so they grow evenly toward the light. Repot in spring into a container one size larger with fresh mix, and feed with diluted fertiliser once a month during the growing season.